Greetings

In our last issue of The Islands Marketplace we introduced the Hereford Avenue Page and regretfully we made a mistake in our story regarding the House Piccolo Restaurant. This highly esteemed restaurant serves award-winning European food, not Ukrainian food, as we reported. We offer our most sincere apologies to anyone affected negatively by this error.

On Saltspring Island this weekend is the fabulous Our Island, Our World Film Festival which proves to showcase many amazing films. After speaking with Stephen Jenkinson, island resident and the subject of director Tim Wilson's film Griefwalker, I am convinced that this is definitely a must see movie regarding the care of the terminally ill. Everyone in our society must deal with death at some point so it makes sense to have the care, compassion and understanding necessary to make it as positive an experience as possible. See our story on page 8 of this issue.

Since we have recently joined the Saltspring Island Chamber of Commerce we are offering all chamber members a special on advertising. In this time of economic uncertainty, many businesses pull back on their advertising budget when in fact, this is the time they should be promoting their business the most. Let us help with our affordable ad rates! See page 14 for our Advertising Specials & column sizes. With competitive ad rates, growing circulation and large 4 column page format, it is easy to see why The Islands Marketplace is a smart choice for commercial advertisers.

We are very grateful for the businesses that support our magazine - we urge our readers to support them and tell them you saw their ad here. Let's keep the free ads flowing. Enjoy this issue - The Islands Marketplace

Local palliative caregiver/teacher featured in weekend film festival documentary "Griefwalker"

by Nathalie Roy

Tim Wilson's film, Griefwalker, a new National Film Board production is coming to Salt Spring Island on March 8th, 2009 at the Our Island, Our World 10th Annual Film Festival at Gulf Islands Secondary School - room 210, on Salt Spring Island with Q&A by Stephen Jenkinson.

First shown at Montreal's 2008 World Film Festival, Griefwalker is the National Film Board of Canada's documentary on the life and work of visionary Canadian palliative care teacher and island resident, Stephen Jenkinson.

Griefwalker is Tim Wilson's extraordinary portrait of Stephen Jenkinson's work with the dying. Whether sitting at the bedside of a dying woman, or speaking to clinicians whose job it is to delay death as long as possible, Jenkinson bears a message that most people do not want to hear: that our deaths are not something to be denied or avoided, but "befriended."

The film is framed by Wilson's wrestling with his denial of his own death as he nearly succumbs to a sudden illness, and his having to face the death of someone very close to him. Griefwalker weaves an illuminating picture of a remarkable man, and leaves us with a deeper understanding of how our deaths should be held as "a prized possession."

To learn more about Stephen Jenkinson's work; teachings, counsel, consultation and presentations or to subscribe to his newsletter visit www.orphanwisdom.com. If you miss it this weekend at the film festival, the film will also be shown at Artspring, on Wed. March 18 at 2pm to 5pm with Stephen in attendance. $10 at the door, $5 for students and seniors.

Salt Spring Island resident Stephen Jenkinson, MTS, MSW, RSW has for more than a decade been revolutionizing the way dying and death are known and done in North America.

Stephen has begun his country-wide OrphanWisdom: Griefwalking Tour. To include your organization in the tour, contact me, Nathalie Roy at contact@orphanwisdom.com, phone: (250) 537-0708 or visit the website: www.orphanwisdom.com

Ask Georgiana

In each issue Georgiana offers great advice to make life a little easier...

Spring will be here soon...(hopefully), and it is time to start thinking about spring cleaning your home.

Here are a few tips that might make that job a little easier.

HOUSEHOLD TIPS:

This cleaning involves moving knick knacks and furniture to clean, from the ceiling to the floor, scrubbing every surface until free of dust and dirt. Ceiling fans, corners of ceilings, tops of doors, windows, window sills, furniture and baseboards should all be cleaned with furniture polish. Start from the back and top of the house and work your way down to the front of the house. This will help you focus on your goal of cleaning the entire house. If you start at the front, we may become tired and not reach the back bedrooms or bathroom. Do not do laundry during the cleaning. Simply pile the laundry near the laundry room and work on this project later, or the next day.

Cleaning can be accomplished quicker by enlisting the help of your family, even small children can be given a cloth to wipe off a table or the TV. It will hold their interest and the TV will sparkle. Use the right tools, a clean rag or sponge can be used in all rooms. Vacuuming the floors as well as the carpets saves time on sweeping. If you have small children, concentrate on their area, the floors and baseboards and everything in their eyesight, on their level.

After you finish cleaning, put your feet up and enjoy the fruits of your labour. With a little hard work, concentration, organization and "elbow grease" the house can be cleaned quickly and efficiently and to your satisfaction. ~ Enjoy!

NEWS FLASH!

Georgiana's Personal Touch Cleaning is going Green! All of us have to do our part to try and live in a cleaner, and less toxic environment. We all will live healthier and happier lives if we all pitch in.

I know it will make a healthier environment for me, as I am exposed to all those chemicals on a daily basis, and it makes sense to "Go Green!"

Reminds me of a joke I came across in "The Patience News", which I was reading in a doctor's office in Cowichan.

"I took an IQ test and it came back negative!"

Happy Spring to everyone... It is coming...sooner or later.

The Who's Live Rock Opera "Tommy" comes to Saltspring Island

TOMMY? "Tommy, can you hear me?"- that TOMMY?

YES!!!! The Who's "Tommy" is coming to Saltspring Island! Not since 1979, when the island produced Rice and Webber's "JC Superstar", have we seen a rock opera here.

This collaboration will see a concert style production on the ArtSpring stage March 24-27..... bringing professional musicians and singers from Victoria, Vancouver and Saltspring together in an audio and visual extravaganza.

You may ask, "how did this come to be?" Well, island born Lauren Bowler, who now makes her living in the performing arts in Vancouver, brought her dream to produce the show to her dad, Tom Bowler, guitarist/producer of the famed Auntie Kate and the Uncles of Funk, and her mum, Sue Newman, local performer and teacher. Having grown up in the genre, Tom was ecstatic about the idea. Sue was on board, too, jumping in to help see this exciting project come to life here. Lauren's sister Patrice, a recent GISS grad and perhaps the biggest Who fan of the bunch, became involved shortly after, and will be lending her voice onstage as well.

The mandate of Little Lamb Artist Group is to produce theatrical events, shows, and workshops that are partnered with a charitable organization that has relevance to the artistic body of work being produced. Having grown up on Salt Spring Island, Lauren is interested in producing in the community that nourished and supported her as a young artist, and coming back to train or give performance opportunity to artists is her way of keeping the cycle going. Her goals include a Tommy tour to Victoria and led her to Salt Spring Community Services, who offer programming for mental health and addictions. On top of donating partial proceeds from our pay-what-you-can performance on March 24, we will donate partial proceeds from both a silent auction that will last the course of the run, and from concession sales during the show.

The performance of Tommy on Tuesday, March 24th is a PAY WHAT YOU CAN performance, with partial proceeds going to Saltspring Community Services for their Mental Health and Addictions Programming.

Be one of the many lovers of live music, theatre and dance by coming to see "Tommy" March 24th, 25th, 26th or 27th at ArtSpring on Saltspring Island.

Hope to see you all at this powerful and inspiring piece of work.....LET'S ROCK!

possibly Vancouver. After teaching a Broadway Burlesque class in the fall of 2007, she plans on running the successful workshop more often. In terms of my next large-scale musical, I'm not sure, but it'll have to rock. Jesus Christ Superstar, maybe?

Because Tommy endures physical and sexual abuse while in his catatonic-like state, Lauren felt it was important to partner with an organization that offers support and resources to youth with mental health disorders. Her decision

Little Lamb Artist Group "Gives Back" to the Community

Salt Spring Community Services is an incredibly active organization serving the Gulf Islands communities. Little Lamb will donate 50% of our box office revenue from our March 24 performance of Tommy, as well as 50% of our concession revenue from that night, to this organization. For the performances on March 25-27, we will donate 15% of our concession revenue. We will also donate 15% from the total revenue of our silent auction which will be displayed in the theatre lobby from March 24-27. A representative from the organization will be present at every performance. With an anticipated attendance of 200 patrons for each show, we are excited at the opportunity for so many to learn more about Salt Spring Community Services and the mental health and addictions programming they provide.

Geoff Berner ~ The Avenging Angel of klezmer

by Rob Pingle

Geoff Berner released his first solo EP Light Enough To Travel in 2000. The title song was also covered by The Be Good Tanya's the same year and became a hit for them. Between then and now Berner has focused his attention on learning more about his Eastern European Jewish roots and especially the music that came from the region, klezmer.

His latest album, "Klezmer Mongrels" released this winter is the ultimate expression of his aggressive kind of klezmer. It's a klezmer punk folk dance album about mixed-breeds of all kinds. This is the third album of his "Whiskey Rabbi" trilogy, all recorded with the rough sound of blaring accordion, the virtuosic, scraping fiddle of Diona Davies, and the thumping, insistent rhythm of Wayne Adams' percussion. Berner says, "Whiskey Rabbi" was mainly about booze, 'Wedding Dance of the Widow Bride' was mostly about women, and 'Klezmer Mongrels' is about the natural consequences of combining the two."

Berner wields his accordion like any of those old 50's era rock stars wielded their guitars. Let's be honest - the accordion is the last instrument of the true rebel starting way back in the old world through to today you have to be a little bit daring to play an accordion. Berner carries this daring through pretty much everything he does from the artwork of the Klezmer Mongrels album to his Official Theme Song for the 2010 Vancouver / Whistler Olympic Games.

Berner's Olympic theme song with lyrics that chastise the use of public money to hold a big party while eliminating the office that investigates the deaths of children in BC showcase his politics and upholds his beliefs of original klezmer music. Berner says, "I want to make original klezmer music that's drunk, dirty, political and passionate. Today there's a cultural battle going on between the boring forces of purity, fundamentalism and monoculture, and the fun forces of mixed-up, messed-up diversity." Klezmer Mongrels is a release that pushes for mixed-up fun. The music and lyrics are a raw assault on purity that will make listeners, laugh, bang their heads, cry, and feel absurd, all at the same time.

Having just completed a successful tour of eastern Canada, Berner and his band will be playing on Salt Spring on March 26 at Mahon Hall. Local musician Ora Cogan will be opening for him with the doors opening at 8pm and the show starting at 9pm. Advance tickets are available at Acoustic Planet and Stuff & Nonsense. If you would like to learn more about Geoff Berner or hear his Olympics Theme for yourself go to his website <http://www.geoffberner.com/>.

The Islands Marketplace HOROSCOPE

For your daily stars, personal horoscopes & more
visit www.patrickarundell.com

Bi-weekly horoscope contributed by Patrick Arundell. Visit his website at www.patrickarundell.com for more great features... see below.

ARIES Mar 21st - Apr 20th

Friendships can prove to be a contrary area for you. Certain pals can be very entertaining company, but someone else may be envious of you, but may not share this openly, and without being able to put your finger on anything specific, this can leave you feeling uneasy. Nervous tension can also blight you. Where possible get plenty of rest.

TAURUS Apr 21st - May 21st

Mars is asking you to make daring moves - ones which will win you the admiration and respect of others. If this chimes with you, why would you want to risk making a good impression, by taking a short cut? With your guiding light in reverse, being canny, as well as bold, is essential. However, socially, a surprising and unusual invitation can thrill you.

GEMINI May 22nd - Jun 21st

If you feel your employment prospects would benefit from a fresh-start, it may be because you either feel unfulfilled by what you do now, or if redundancy has snared you, this has given you a chance to push open the door of opportunity to something more creative. Technology can certainly be a factor in your progress. Your imagination can also be high.

CANCER Jun 22nd - Jul 23rd

If travelling, holidays or higher education have been strands whizzing around at the back of your mind, any of these can come more sharply into focus. However, you can also find yourself chopping and changing your mind. This will be a positive thing if it enables you to thoroughly check out all the options before truly deciding. Follow your heart.

LEO Jul 24th - Aug 23rd

The Full Moon brings months of tensions around a relationship to the boil. This may see you needing to divide assets on a tie that's stumbled or to gain a new personal understanding. Ironically, it may also see you bonding at an ever deeper level. There can also be surprises and revelations. This can prove that life can keep us on our toes.

VIRGO Aug 24th - Sep 23rd

There have been some jagged edges around relationships - potentially. People don't always find it easy to comply to your high standards or can resent what they see you as your criticisms. However, now you're encouraged to get some kind of dialogue going. However stilted, this and the Full Moon can help to draw a difficult situation into the open.

LIBRA Sep 24th - Oct 23rd

Think back over the last five months. All sorts of subtle blockages or even low vitality may have been preventing more dramatic progress. Whilst last month saw you overcome many things, if you still feel underpowered, do go and see someone who can help. Be it a counsellor, doctor or alternative therapist, they could all help to find solutions.

SCORPIO Oct 24th - Nov 22nd

It may seem trite, but humour can be a great way to deal with life's stresses. And it's amazing how just a small shift in our circumstances can almost immediately see us in better spirits. So, if you have felt a bit overwhelmed of late, tap into your reservoir of jokes, or quirkier way of viewing life and soon others will respond to you in smiling kind.

SAGITTARIUS Nov 23rd - Dec 21st

Is there a fundamental inequality in your work-life balance? If you're working hard to secure the future of your family or yourself, this would be understandable, but if you have kids, they will still want your attention, however busy you are, so do try to make some time for them or those who provide your emotional and practical support structures.

CAPRICORN Dec 22nd - Jan 20th

The Full Moon is a truly critical point for this week, month and year. For if you feel that you've been hamstrung, your frustration with any difficulties can reach boiling point. Yet whereas in the past you were more comfortable with taking a more conservative line, now your desire to speak out can be strong - especially if something seems unfair.

AQUARIUS Jan 21st - Feb 19th

Your two co-regents, or key planets, are Saturn and Uranus. Unhappily, for five months they have tensely opposed one another. Something that's been simmering away on the back of this opposition can now reach some kind of crunch point. But I feel that soon you'll be sighing with relief, as a saga fades away. The fates work in mysterious ways.

PISCES Feb 20th - Mar 20th

Mercury speeds into Pisces and brings with it good tidings, mental alertness and desire to communicate. Mars and Uranus however, can see you very resistant to the demands or needs of others and with a potent Full Moon, relationships can be turbulent. As much as friends may encourage you to compromise, you may not be in the mood to do so.
