Keeping it Reehl

By Chef Georgiana Reehl

Those Delicious B.C. Oysters!

I love preparing seafood and just simply enjoy finding new and delectable ways to prepare new and exciting dishes. And perhaps most of all I simply love oysters.

Oysters are so incredibly tasty and wonderful, and there are so many different kinds available to us here on the Gulf Islands and in B.C. But like so many things, there is a story and a history behind those succulent and delicious oysters we eat. The native Pacific Oysters that exist in the wild are small in size, no longer prevalent, and taste nothing like the delicacies you and I know today.

So...Virtually all the oysters we eat come from cultivated oysters that are farmed from seed. And here the story begins. More than anywhere in the world, oyster farming has become an incredible success here in B.C. World class techniques and oyster farming science have created an amazing range of incomparable and elegant varieties of oysters..and Surprise! Surprise!... all of them have been developed from the original native Pacific Oyster stock. It is almost incredible to believe that the 20 or so different varieties of oysters, so delicate and varied in size, texture, taste and distinctive flavor available to us here on the B.C. coast, came from the same stock. But they all do. Similar to the sublime and extraordinary techniques of wine production, it is in the unique and distinctive aquaculture techniques that such a wide range of remarkable and exotic oysters are created. According to Sandra Hamilton of Pacific Kiss Oysters, oyster farming here on the West Coast has truly become an art form. She eloquently explained that like the "terroir" that gives wine its exceptional and marvelous qualities, there is a "merroir", or specific geographic aquatic location that lends an authentic and quintessential quality to oysters also. Oysters can be raised on the beach, or in suspended trays in the ocean. Depths of culturing can be varied. Different techniques like "tumbling" are used resulting in amazing and unforgettable flavors. Some varieties like the Sinku oyster are harvested at the incredible depth of 70 feet, and they are pink and translucent and incredibly delicate. So much to learn!! So the next time you shuck an outrageously exquisite and marvelously succulent oyster, think of all the years of effort and care that has been spent making oysters here in B.C. on the coast such a simply delicious experience. I know I do. And if you happen to be heading up towards Comox in late June, you might enjoy the Comox Valley Shellfish Festival on June 20th. And if not, head on down to Moby's for some of our world-class oysters and just enjoy! Until then...Keep smiling!! ~ Georgiana

Oysters Rockefeller

In 1899 when Jules Alciatore of Antoine's Restaurant in New Orleans created and served his oyster dish, a customer said, "this dish is as rich as Rockefeller"...and because it was green and the color of American greenbacks, the name and the reference to the wealthy John D. Rockefeller stuck.

Simple and Quick Recipe

Shuck a dozen oysters and save the bottom shells with the oysters in them. Prepare a sauce with 1/2 cup chopped spinach,

- 3 tablespoons butter
- 2 finely chopped green onions.
- Salt and pepper to taste.
- Cover the oysters with the sauce
- 3 cloves minced garlic
- A dash of Tabasco sauce

Then grate fresh parmesan cheese over them and flash broil them in the oven. Add lemon juice, and seafood sauce if you wish, and... VIOLA!

Salt Spring artists prepare for 2nd Annual Masterpiece Weekend June 18-20th, 2010

Salt Spring Island, BC – May 2010 – 24 artists with some diverse interests including yacht racing, Islamic mathematics, and Italian sustainable living, all share one passion: creating their 'best work' for Masterpiece Weekend. Salt Spring's premier art event boasts works by nationally and internationally renowned artists with eclectic backgrounds and sensibilities that attract art collectors from around the world. This year each artist will create a piece specifically for the weekend, presenting never before seen works in the Bateman Gallery at ArtSpring, the Island Arts Centre.

Artist and gallery owner, Jill Louise Campbell has lived on Salt Spring for 20 years, a transplant from Montreal via Victoria, BC. Campbell has also spent time in Italy where the landscape of a remote valley in southern Tuscany has inspired her latest art offering. "In my new work, I am drawn into the "joie de vivre" of simple times in tiny hamlets, strongly fragrant with earth supporting a way of life sustained over generations by families that still farm their same land. Food is celebrated in their markets and tables. Life on Salt Spring Island leans to the simple too. We walk in baby steps, nursing the idea of sustainable living. Our farms and farmers give me remembrances to this sweet life in Italy." Her new work titled, "Simple Life on a Tuscan Farm", supports her dream of living in a peaceable world in step with a pace that gently nurtures a kind way of living.

Scottish by birth and a transplant to Canada, Ronald Smith has an affinity for the sea. Smith has travelled extensively, sailed across the Pacific and raced yachts through BC waters. The one time Coordinator of Fine Art for the BC Ministry of Education, has painted for 60 years using light, colour and space to guide his artistic preferences. His new work titled, "Inter Tidal" came to him while looking out his window at the water view of Wallace Island, the Trincomali Channel and Galiano Island, all within sight of his art studio.

For artist Ronald T. Crawford, his work is inspired by a recent trip to Tofino, on BC's west coast. "My work called, 'The Resistance to Freedom' was inspired while watching the white suds fade into the sand and then furl back into the ocean. The contrasting patterns remind me of movements I equate with fundamentalism and the movement of water, freedom." Crawford is also inspired by the show's theme. "I love the idea of each artist creating a single piece representing their best work. Each new painting is an attempt to create my best work and to be involved with 23 other artists' means each piece has to stand on its own. This is a great opportunity for each of us."

The "Masterpiece Weekend" is an event organized by the Salt Spring Fine Art Group. The Fine Art Group is: Galleons Lap Gallery, Jill Louise Campbell Fine Art Gallery, Gallery 8, Martinus Studio-Gallery, Pegasus Gallery of Canadian Art, Steffich Fine Art, Stone Fish Gallery with sculptor Allan Crane, and sponsors, Hastings House Country House Hotel and ArtSpring, the Island Arts Centre. THE ISLANDS MARKETPLACE RESTAURANT REVIEW: THE FALCONSHEAD GRILL RESTAURANT

Mouth-Watering Flavours of Great Greek Cuisine

By Sandi Poystila

When you first approach the Falconshead Grill at the Salt Spring Golf Course, you are easily distracted by the lush landscaping and expansive greens of the fairways.

It was a sunny Friday afternoon at 5pm when my family and I decided to go out for Greek Night, instead of ordering it as take out, which we usually do.

The atmosphere was open and not too busy, which is good when dining with kids. It was a little too chilly on the patio so we sat inside and watched the hockey playoffs - 3 wide screen TVs at various angles near the bar.

We glanced at the menu, but already knew what we wanted, our mouths were watering in anticipation of the unmistakable greek flavours.

As always we ordered the calamari and pita dip platter to start. It was nice to try a new feta cheese and red pepper dip added to the trio of humus, tzatzike and baba ganoush.

My husband ordered the spanakopita (spinach & feta wrapped in filo) and I ordered the chicken souvlaki dinner. The kids shared a chicken strip dinner and coloured in the kids books provided, while I enjoyed my caesar and view of the golfers on the course.

The food was delicious to say the least. The rice was fluffy and perfect, the chicken was so tender and juicy, definitely a must have. Andy and I were going to share, but after one bite of his spanikopita, he changed his mind and wanted it all for himself! Chef Ken Brudner really knows his stuff and with his many years spent in Toronto's Greek Restaurants, his Friday Night menu is second to none.

We have enjoyed various greek restaurants when we lived in Vancouver, so in comparison, the Falconshead Greek Night is never a disappointment to our expectations.

And you won't be disappointed with

mmmm calamari

their regular menu either. Reasonably priced with large portions and lots of choices including a kids menu. My 7 year old exclaimed "Mom, can you please order more of this for me, it is so yummy."

With it's unassuming entrance and central location, it is an excellent place for large groups or parties, and owner Jesse Blanchette is very helpful and accommodating. A great place to bring family and friends, anytime, with fast, friendly service and wonderful food. The Falconshead Restaurant is one of Salt Spring's best kept secrets, that you really must discover.

The Happy Denturist genuinely cares for clients in community and beyond

By Rhonda Jury ~ jayfive@shaw.ca

Tucked in beside Clean Warmth Fireplaces and Susie's Restaurant at the corner of Crofton Rd. and Chemainus Rd – some old timers may remember this location, historically, as Pinscent's Corner— is the tidy, wheelchair accessible, office of 'The Happy Denturist' team— Brian Harris and Judy DeLain, and Janene Spooner.

Brian and Judy are friendly professionals that go out of their way to serve the community that has graciously supported them in their business since they relocated here in 2008. As well as doing dentures in house— this team travels up and down the island providing 'in hospital' denture care for their less mobile clients in Ladysmith, Crofton, Chemainus, Saltair and Salt Spring Island. They are also pleased to offer free ferry pick up and drop off from Cooper Island and Thetis Island.

Judy explains "...we try to help in any way we can, often just accessing dental plan information can be very challenging –so we really do our best to break things down and simplify the whole process for our clients."

Brian's family immigrated to Canada from Kingston Jamaica in 1961; he attended University of Victoria, and graduated dental school from the North Alberta Institute of Technology in Edmonton. Judy was born and raised in northern Alberta, and she received her dental assistant training from N.A.I.T in Edmonton as well. Brian established a successful practice on Goldstream Avenue in Colwood, and served the community for thirty years before Judy joined him in 1993, shortly thereafter becoming his wife. In 2008 the couple decided to move to the seaside village of Crofton and relocate their business to the Crofton corners.

People are often hesitant to pursue dental issues because of a variety of reasons: fear, funds, and mobility are often among them. 'The Happy Denturist' team works hard to remove these obstacles because they genuinely care about people. They provide a clean, safe environment to allow people greater denture comfort— improving the quality of their day to day lives. No referral from a dentist is needed; all work is completed in their in house lab— making this service more affordable. Full denture services available, partial dentures and dentures over implants. They will work with your dentist if requested.

Being new Chamber of Commerce members, Brian and Judy hosted a well attended 'mixer' at their office on June 2. They were happy to meet many new friends and associates, and would like to thank all who attended.

Party Planning 101

By Tracey Supina

As this fine sunny weather approaches we all are in the mood to hang out in the yard, pull out the BBQ and get grilling. I love outdoor parties. I have huge plans every year to host a kick ass one. I plan and talk about it until summer is almost over and more times than not it is the impromptu BBQ of family and friends that stop by which is the best one of all.

Here is a little guide I like to follow when I do throw that fantastic BBQ. I circle the date on the calendar that does change 8-10 times for one reason or another.

Then I make the guest list, now the stress begins...who goes with who, who gets along with whom, and most of all who will interact and keep the conversations going. By the time I have invited what I call a few close friends and family I have now generated a list of what some would call the guest list from a royal wedding.... I scratch off this one and that one and the guilt of peoples feelings being hurt then my date on the calendar has changed to fit into everyone's schedule. WHEW.... Now the fun begins.

Invitations are a must! I have through the years given verbal invites but find if you send a real invite via mail or email there is a commitment responsible people feel so send one up 3 weeks minimum before the date.

IT'S PARTY TIME!

Planning the Perfect Summer Party ~ Salt Spring Island Style

Contact any of the businesses on these pages for services & products that will help you with planning the perfect summer party!

The menu and what people will bring. This is a great thing because everyone wants to bring something, I love that idea! Give your friends the food you least like to make and "Whoop hoo!" that is done.

Next take inventory of cutlery, plates etc. Nothing wrong with quality paper plates for that outside BBQ. Shop for non-perishables about two weeks before that is lots of time for this. One week before I usually think about the music and where everyone is going to sit. Time to hunt down patio chairs or better yet tell a few of the friends to bring some. Find a great outdoor table or two to put everything on.

The day or two before buy your groceries. If ever I bought my groceries too early the boys would always eat most of the "cool stuff" that I don't usually buy then I would have to go back to the store and get more. And one thing that is very important - don't forget lots of ice.....ahhhhhh I need lots of ice for my drinks.

Now time to clean the house, even though you say outside BBQ you know people are going to go inside. I clean, I decorate, I get the house ready and then I move on to prepping what I can for the BBQ.

The day of the party, last minute touch up, prep work, and get what I need cooked ready to go. If everything is ready that can be done....then you will for sure be able to relax and enjoy, raise your glass, make a toast.... cheers!

SALTSPRING SOLILOQUIES

"What If It Is True"

"I do not know what I may appear to the world, but to myself I seem to have been only like a boy playing on the seashore, and diverting myself in now and then finding a smoother pebble or a prettier shell than ordinary, whilst the great ocean of truth lay all undiscovered before me." ~ Sir Isaac Newton, (perhaps one of the most influential scientists in history)

What if it is true? What if we are not as smart as we think we are? None of us. Every brilliant genius, all the world class thinkers, dreamers and philosophers that have ever walked this earth, since the beginning. What if the hallowed, crowning achievement of the human race...logical, rational and ordered human thought were absolutely proved to be primitive and deeply flawed? That instead of supreme and prestigious arrogance at the astounding brilliance of rational thought, the truth is that for 10,000 years we have been whistling in the dark? That the magnificent, complex civilization, astonishing technology, scientific order and method, philosophical conjecture and reason we have created were irrefutably shown to be built upon sand.

Just suppose this were to be so. Suppose that the real reason our human society is disintegrating around us and we cannot truly find the answers that will turn this human juggernaut of chaos, confusion, brutality and despair now raging through our modern civilization around is because we are not as smart as we think we are....that the way our minds function is wrong. Forget about trying to conceive of such a monstrous error...what in holy heaven can you and I do about it?

50 years ago humankind took a leap of faith together and focused upon an impossible dream. The Moon. It was a dream that took miracles, and millions of small steps by simple human beings. But we did it. Human beings walked on the moon. But that was just a small step compared to the monstrous leap of changing the way the human mind fashions meaning, order and reason in universe. Child's play to uncovering the secret error in the colossus of logical, rational human thought.

Where in the world would we begin to reach for this new, impossible dream? Where could we start?

Jim Anderson is a writer living on Saltspring. He is working on a metamorphosis of the human mind. © 2010 by Jim Anderson, Saltspring Island

First of all we must see beyond the apparent insoluble and vast diversity that humankind appears to evidence. We must discover that beneath it all we are the same. In the 60 million or so cells each of us have the life transpiring there is the same. Metabolic pathways. Cellular biochemistry. DNA. Organelles. Mitochondria. We have discovered that all of us are stamped with the same imprint. All of us share the same process. And that discovery, and that secret oneness has permitted us to entertain the dream of solving the mystery...has given us hope that there is an answer there waiting to be found. So it is with the mystery and dimension of human thought. We must believe that there is a unity and commonality there also. Beneath the imponderable complexity and incommunicable diversity that manifests on the surface everywhere in our disintegrating society, at the core center each of us must use the exact same elemental process to formulate logical, rational thought. Like dreaming of walking on the Moon, we must begin to dream that we can find that deep, elemental process all of us secretly share. And together we must find the faith to believe that once we discover this secret, we can again do the impossible, reach for a new star and begin human thought, and human life on earth again...in a different way.

Beneath the abstract, formless stream of awareness, when we try to make "sense" of universe, when we seek to formulate order and reason with logic and rationality each of us use a deep and primary process that we have yet to discover and appreciate. And like the essential and elementary process of life that riots through our bodies, we manifest and maintain deep within us all a platform and a process beneath all rational, logical and ordered human thought that together we can uncover and transform. And that secret and ancient process began long ago at the beginning, in the darkness of prehistory. Together we must believe this to be so. Like the revelation that human beings underwent when they saw the perfect, blue jewel of Earth from deep space, being able for the first time in all creation to see the human mind and logical human thought from the deep perspective of that star of more evolved understanding will open the door to higher ground and survival for us all.

Bi-weekly horoscope contributed by Patrick Arundell. Visit his website at www.patrickarundell.com for more great features... see below.

ARIES Mar 21st - Apr 20th

The big mover this week is Venus. Well, that is for a tiny planet. But she glides into the most glamorous of the zodiac signs, Leo, and in the most super, funky part of your horoscope. This also sets up a delicious link with both Jupiter and Uranus in your zodiac sign. If you are looking for a new start in love, the portents are superb. A real sense of excitement is clear.

TAURUS Apr 21st - May 21st

You can gain enormously from someone's wisdom. This could be an inspiring teacher if you are a student or if you're interested in personal development, a new source of information can give you greater understanding of yourself and life, which can prove both comforting and reassuring. People with unique ideas, can resonate that much more strongly.

GEMINI May 22nd - Jun 21st

You can be a bubbly person and this week's astral picture is going to do everything to help you to show this to the full. Expect to be Popularity Central with all sorts of interesting invites and people making a beeline to gain from your buzzy vibe. Your imagination can also be awesome. This is a time of very rare celestial magic. Do use it to the full Gemini.

CANCER Jun 22nd - Jul 23rd

Your business and financial horoscope is looking exceptionally promising. However, to make this count, you might need to take a break from the past. So, if an unusual job is advertised or your boss asks you to take on a different type of role, it may turn out to be one of the best things that's ever happened to you. Stay open-minded and on your toes!

LEO Jul 24th - Aug 23rd

Is there anyone prowling around the astral jungle who is quite as beautiful as you Leo? Absolutely not and of course, I'm showing temerity by even begging the question. After all, I wouldn't want to hurt your pride...But seriously, as glamour girl Venus arrives in your sign, this is your chance to strut your stuff. So, puff out your chest and dazzle and beguile.

VIRGO Aug 24th - Sep 23rd

If you're in a love relationship where one of you tends to be rather controlling, this can be a crucial phase. You'd be wise not to take a partner for granted. Secrets can have a habit of tumbling into the open, or are you going to surprise yourself by a compulsive attraction to someone new and rather mysterious? If you're cautious, continue to mull things over.

LIBRA Sep 24th - Oct 23rd

Your love life is going to be a time of thrills, and yes perhaps the odd skirmish. Why? Because you are starting to crave excitement, but at the same time you must understand you can't just get this from the person you are interested in, fancy or live with. It has to come from a change in your outlook too. So, don't settle for second best, but be proactive.

SCORPIO Oct 24th - Nov 22nd

Polish your image. Giving an air of capability comes naturally to you, but now your stylish persona can open the doors of possibility at work too. Your relationships with a boss can improve or someone influential can take you under their wing and try to guide you. Novel ideas can do well, so win over a skeptical audience by giving a slick presentation.

SAGITTARIUS Nov 23rd - Dec 21st

One of your greatest gifts is your inquisitiveness. Some people take life at face value, but not you, the more you can probe and journey into new and exciting vistas, the better. Between now and August can be a very positive period to engage in the new and the exotic. In relationships, you might find yourself being pulled to someone very spicy indeed.

CAPRICORN Dec 22nd - Jan 20th

You are the sign of the traditional, but some of your interests and ideas have been anything but in recent years and now you can apply your inventiveness to the home. This may see you suddenly up sticks and move to a new environment or search on-line to understand who your ancestors were. Your abode can also be used for gatherings or a party plan night.

AQUARIUS Jan 21st - Feb 19th

Venus sweeps into your opposite sign and even the trickiest of opponents or rivals can seem that much less daunting to get along with. Your mind is working superbly well too and if you need to find the right choice of words to make a good impression, you can come across in a quirky but very genuine way, one which can help to melt any barriers to you.

PISCES Feb 20th - Mar 20th

Finding cash hard to come by? Stay resolutely assured that you can unlock the solutions to this. Modern technology is a sure fire way to improve things and even if you just sell a few unwanted goods on-line, it can give your confidence a boost and put some extra dosh into the kitty. Part-time roles may also be of interest - especially if you can do more than one.

SUMMER CAMPS 4 KIDS

ACOUSTIC PLANET MUSIC

Workshops are a great way to bring people together – both young and old. Pursuing passions is something we do not always get the chance or put the time aside to do. But if not now... then when!?

In our community of arts and music opportunities, take some time this summer to try out your hand at something new or hone in on skills you've been working on all year. At Acoustic Planet, you can choose fiddle or bass, drums or group play – be a rocker in a band or do some private lessons to get you in the Groove. Engulf yourself in those with the passion of music and walk away with something more than you came with.

If you are thinking of joining the middle school band, beginner band enthusiasts will have a great time with Bob Delion, Dan Leavers and Greg Esposito in Rock Camp from July 13-16 from 1pm – 3pm. A more advanced version of this Rock Camp is offered from August 9th – 12th. The recording studio will be simultaneously running a camp that will give both groups the opportunity to play and record.

Fiddle Fun camp with Angeline Hensen is just that... FUN! There will be time to learn violin, play in a group and have some fun with paint and clay too! Angeline will be facilitating fiddle camp July 13th -16th from 10 a.m.-12 noon.

If the sound of the drum moves you, then perhaps a group drum, rhythm camp will get you on the beat! Running from July 19th-21st from 11a.m – 1 pm, Dan Leavers will guide you through the basics!

Our most exciting new venture is the Acoustic Planet Music Recording Studio where beginners to advanced performers can lay down their lines and walk away with a professionally recorded piece of music. Have you been writing your own songs? Let's get them digitized!

If finances are an issue, our GEMA (Giving Everyone Music & Art) program might be of assistance. Founded several years back, an account was set up to receive funds from fundraisers, grants, and donations that would be put towards the cost of music lessons for those in families having financial hardship. If you need assistance or if you are able to sponsor a music student, please contact us at 250 537-9668.

The studios will be open throughout the summer for workshops, camps and private lessons including drop in lessons!

Now is the time to start. If not now, then when?

Call 537-9668 or email acousticplanet@shaw.ca to inquire further.

FRIENDSHIP FUNDAMENTALS

“Our emotions impact both our motivation and our ability to interact socially”.

Possessing social competence is fundamental to leading a “normal”, “healthy” life. Inadequate social skills impinge on development by increased “interfering” or maladaptive behaviors and a decrease in the positive development, support and learning opportunities found in successful peer relationships.

Friendship FUNdamentals summer camp program focuses on increasing social communication skills(pragmatics), teaching self regulation skills , helping with sensory integration issues and anxiety triggers, reducing “interfering or maladaptive” behaviors, increasing friendship skills....and is focussed on having FUN.

July camp is almost full, there are only 15 spaces left throughout July and August. Ages 5yrs to 14yrs welcome, we are an “inclusive” camp. Our fee($125.00 per week Mon. to Fri. 9am -4pm) qualifies for MCFS/CLBC/SCD funding. The staff include myself ,and one or two counsellors trained/ experienced with special needs. Our groups are small so as to focus on each child's needs (6 per week...ratio 3:1). If there is/are children requiring one to one support there will be 6 kids to 3 staff (ratio 2:1). Please call me at 653-9556 or email me at : jaimehh3@hotmail.com

Registration pkgs can also be picked up and dropped off at SSE or Fulford Elementary school offices.

For more summer camps for kids visit our website archive page for the May 28 issue of The Islands Marketplace at: www.islandsmarketplace.com/archive.html
