Jeremy Fisher, Said the Whale, Hannah Georgas & Aidan Knight present The Malahat Revue - 'Bike to Work' Tour - July

BC-based Jeremy Fisher, Said the Whale, Hannah Georgas and Aidan Knight have come together, with a salute to the environment to form The Malahat Revue, an eight-piece musical collective that will begin touring their beloved province by bicycle on Thursday July 8, 2010 in Salt Spring Island (current dates listed below).

Conceived by Jeremy Fisher who has toured across North America by bike three times and at 33, doesn't own a car. Fisher endeavours to do as much as possible by bike. It's with that ethic in mind that The Malahat Revue will hit the road on their bicycles, playing six shows from July 8-18. With only a single support vehicle to carry drums and larger gear, the musicians will carry more portable gear with them, and rack up over 500 kilometers as they pedal from gig to gig in a little more than a week.

As well as hailing from Canada's west coast, the four acts that make up The Malahat Revue all share a love of Canadiana, drawing inspiration from their homeland and featuring local imagery in their lyrics. This isn't the first time these artists' paths have crossed: Jeremy Fisher was first introduced to Hannah Georgas's music when his wife saw the up-and-coming songstress at a local coffee shop in 2008. The two toured together in early 2009. Meanwhile, Georgas struck up a close musical relationship with Said the Whale, touring with the group and singing backup on last year's Islands Disappear LP. Victoria-based Aidan Knight is the only member of The Malahat Revue not from Vancouver, but his connection to the city is strong. He became involved in the local music community working with Hannah on her first demo tracks in Victoria, and Said the Whale frontman Tyler Bancroft offered to release Knight's debut solo album, Versicolour, via his own, newly-minted Adventure Boys Club label.

"I'm so happy to have a great group of friends and musicians to share the experience with this time," says Jeremy.

With eight musicians together on stage, playing a selection of favourites from one another's back catalogues, it will be an unpredictable atmosphere of spontaneity and experimentation. One thing is certain: The Malahat Revue will be the greatest show made up of four bands touring on two wheels that you'll see all summer.

- Friday July 9 - Pender Island Community Hall, Pender Island, BC

Mobile Soft Plastic & Styrofoam Depot

By Valerie Williams

Salt Spring Island residents now have the ability to recycle soft plastic and styrofoam on island with Pacific Mobile Depots' (PMD) new mobile recycling depot. PMD, a Victoria-based recycling company with monthly mobile depot locations in thirteen communities in the Capital Regional District and Vancouver, is currently testing out the community response on Salt Spring Island for a user-pay soft plastic recycling depot.

Islanders can recycle a wide variety of soft plastics and styrofoam – ranging from plastic bags, styrofoam packing peanuts, foam meat and seafood trays, plastic pasta and frozen food bags to styrofoam cups and take out containers at the new depot, for a nominal fee per bag.

Locals can thank Marnie Slinn for the new mobile recycling depot. The Salt Spring Island resident took the initiative to get the service to the island when she created a petition to gauge the community's desire for a recycling soft plastic and styrofoam service on the island. The feedback was positive and, with the enthusiastic support of Paul Large from Country Grocer, the inaugural depot took place in the grocery store parking lot on March 31st.

"People here were used to recycling this material because the local depot used to collect it," explains Slinn. "I thought it would be good to address the change by replacing the service instead of it just not being available to us anymore. The depot may be a temporary 'fill-in' option for the next little while or it may become a permanent part of our recycling circle on Salt Spring Island...we'll see how it unfolds."

Zeb Pereira, co-owner of Pacific Mobile Depots was pleased with the initial turnout to the first depot. More than 130 regular size garbage bags of plastics were diverted from the landfill at the March 31st depot.

"We are very encouraged going into the next depot date scheduled for June 30th, as typically on the second depot dates, we've seen increases ranging from 20% to 350%. The largest second depot date increase happened at our University of Victoria depot that grew 350% in April of this year, from the opening date in March. We urge all residents to come out and break this all-time record," explains Pereira.

It is the community's degree of commitment to reducing waste that will make the new user-pay recycling depot a success and ensure the service continues. Pacific Mobile Depots plans to visit Salt Spring Island every three months during the initial trial phase and set up their mobile recycling services in the Country Grocer parking lot.

"I think there is a lot of buzz right now about soft plastic recycling on the island. The depot will be a success if people use it. I truly hope people do use it," explains Slinn. "I feel it is so important to take responsibility for our waste on a daily basis and if the services are not available on island, most people do not have the time to research other options off island."

The next Salt Spring Island Soft Plastic & Styrofoam Recycling Depot takes place on June 30th (Wednesday) in the Country Grocer parking lot from 8:30am to 11:30am.

Residents should ensure their recycling is clean, dry and sorted. For a full list of items that can be recycled and fees per bag: <http://www.pacificmobiledepots.com/>

This is what I was thinking...

Summer is Here... Time for Fun!!!

As summer approaches, school days coming to an end for the wonderful break. We as parents probably always fear the same words usually a day or two into the summer break.... "I'm bored." Most of us carry full time jobs that don't allow all of our time to be consumed with entertaining our children all summer long.

My boys and I start with the first warm day after school is out, when we set up our big tent in the yard.... This is a tent that takes a couple of people on the ends holding the poles, and the center has to rise up and by the end of it we are all mad at each other but 5 minutes later they are throwing stuff in the tent.

During the heat wave last year we took the tv and dvd player outside on the deck, pulled the mattresses to the deck and watched movies under the stars. That would be my favorite memory of last summer and one of the first things out of my youngest's mouth when we were talking about the summer and what to do. He pipes up and says "Don't forget the movies under the stars."

My mom retired this year... I hope she doesn't read this article... I have picked out Gramma Days for her but better wait to tell her how many. The boys love hanging with my Mom and I love the look on her face when I first drop them off....that look of horror and how long are you going to be, then when I pick them up....she has had the best day ever.

There are a lot of things to do on this island for kids 12 and under. There are summer camps but what to do for the kids over 12?? I know I won't get far with a chore list every single day... so what to do??? Well my plan is: chore list, see how much gets done, come home for lunch and after work beach time. Sometimes I tell them to go walk around with the camera. I love the pics!! They take pictures of the most bizarre things. We are lucky that St. Mary's lake is a 5 minute walk so I am thinking that swimming hole will get used quite a bit this year. Well good luck to the parents out there keeping their kids busy. If anyone has any ideas email me traceydragonfly@hotmail.com and I will post them with a follow up story to summer time.... Cheers and remember the sun-screen!!

THE ISLANDS MARKETPLACE RESTAURANT REVIEW: THE MARKETPLACE CAFÉ Fine Dining is Affordable on Salt Spring Island

By Sandi Poystila & Teresa Forbes

When we entered the Marketplace Café, it was clean and quiet as the staff readied themselves for the dinner service.

We first noticed the pressed white table linens, fresh flowers, lit candles and warm ambiance, with elegant decor, eye-catching photography and art.

Leala, our server, brought us our menus and allowed us time to choose from the amazing selection of starters and entrees. We had a very difficult time deciding until she told us about the evening dinner specials.

Leala explained to us about the vacuum sealed process of cooking called "Sous Vide", which is French for "under vacuum". It is a method of cooking that maintains the integrity of ingredients by heating them for an extended period at relatively low and even temperatures. It is a newer process that is very popular in Europe, and used in the preparation of the evenings Sockeye Salmon Special.

Teresa and I were treated to a variety of tasty olives and warm french bread, which was very nice. I sipped on a glass of Pinot Rose from Salt Spring's Mistaken Identity vineyard, while our orders of Chicken Breast with spiced tandoori yogurt and homemade pear, mango and apricot chutney, and wild Sockeye Salmon with Strawberry balsamic salsa were being prepared.

The staff at the Marketplace Café were great. As the restaurant began to fill with patrons, it was obvious that our server was starting to get busy but she was very patient and did not make us feel rushed at all.

When our food arrived it was an artful masterpiece of colours, textures and flavours. Each bite was a pleasure to savour the perfectly complimented sauces with the entree. The seasonal vegetables were crisp and cooked to perfection. I tasted Teresa's Chicken and Chutney and it was amazing, it melted in my mouth.

Owner and Chef Steven Overholt and his wife Amanda are proud supporters of local food suppliers, including: Salt

Spring Farm Food Link and Foxglove Farm, local vineyards: Garry Oaks and Mistaken Identity, and Salt Spring Island and Moonstruck Cheese and The Fishery, local wild fish and seafood suppliers.

The fresh Wild Sockeye Salmon was caught in Barclay Sound the day before by local fisherman, Arne Hengstler.

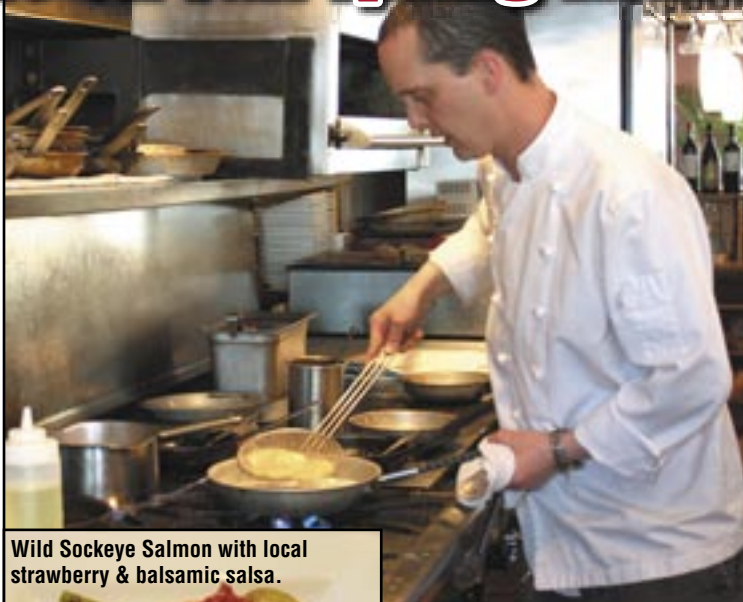

The portions were just the right amount to make us feel comfortably full, but left room to try a decadent dessert.

Although Steven mentioned the flourless chocolate cake, I did try a piece of Amanda's cheesecake and it really was one of the best I have ever tasted. Not too sweet or overpowering. Teresa had the lavender infused creme brûlé and she admitted that it was something she'd be back for more of.

We were very impressed with the quality of service and food - it was high end dining without the high end prices - moderate, in the $20 - $30 range per entree, and well worth every bite. Leala admitted she didn't often return any plates that weren't empty.

Reservations are recommended for larger groups and there is a licensed outdoor patio for outdoor dining.

The Marketplace Café offers healthy enjoyable food, created by a very experienced and talented chef, whose high standards allow him to succeed in his restaurant business. Their support for local growers is setting a standard for healthy eating. With Steve's training in Vancouver, Whistler, Barcelona and New Orleans, he knows what people want and he delivers!

Keeping it Reehl

By Chef Georgiana Reehl

Living With... (and loving) Birds

I have been in love with animals since I could walk – Wow! That’s a long time ago – and Lord only knows I love them even more now. Whenever I watch television I literally have to change channels or I cry my heart out if I see anyone hurting an animal. If only people would realize, they are a lot like us, except they were not gifted with speech, except for some parrot species.

Being born in Africa I have so enjoyed spending time with nature's creatures. Animals seem so simple, pure and wild in their habitat. We humans can learn a lot from them.

When you take time to give love to an animal, they almost always give love back with no strings attached, and there is always a simple, uncomplicated reason if they hurt you. They never hurt or kill for sport and are always dedicated to their mate – especially birds.

Well! In my life I have had monkeys, chameleons, snakes, lizards, tortoises, cats, dogs, teddy bear hamsters and all manner of wild and unusual animals as pets, Oh boy! What an experience! And you know what? It never ceases to amaze me how intelligent and wonderful creatures they all are.

At home I have three birds. "Peaches" who is yellow and a little white, and "Bandit" a 'new comer' who is grey and white. Both are cockatiels. Now my third is green napped Lorikeet who is named "Pretty Boy." Believe me – He is gorgeous, and actually speaks and converses with me, and I don't mean he mimics like parrots do. We actually talk with each other.

Birds can be a lot of trouble, and can be mischievous and messy – but always lovely companions. When I say messy! I simply do not have the heart to cage them up. So they more or less have the whole house as their home. Be aware of open windows and doors... I always introduce the outdoors to my birds 'in a cage' so that they get use to their surroundings. That way, if they get loose, like Peaches has done sometimes, they seem to stay close because the scenery is familiar, and they know their way back home. All of us pet owners know what sort of companion we have and they mean the world to us. They bring us so much joy and happiness. Animals are very therapeutic for the old and the young.

Be patient with them, try not to abuse them. They, unlike people, don't hold grudges. They come right back, forgive and love you always.

If you try to stay close, be observant and pay attention to your pet, you'll find that they communicate with you and love in so many ways. Enjoy them! I know I do. I am so lucky and am a better person for the time we have shared together.

If you are eating like a bird, here is a recipe for a dynamite, delicious, invigorating, fresh and succulent salad. Yummy! ~ Georgiana

Succulent Salad Recipe

- | | |
|---|------------------------------|
| 4 cups of spring salad mix. | 2 cups baby spinach |
| 1 1/2 cups of small grape tomatoes | 5 baby cucumbers diced |
| 1 green, 1 yellow and 1 red pepper cut up into small strips | 1/2 yellow onion sliced |
| 1 can mandarin oranges (drained) | 1 fresh avocado sliced |
| 1 cup fresh blueberries | 1/2 cup fresh raspberries |
| 1 fresh mango chopped | 1/2 cup chopped cashews |
| 1/2 oz smoked gouda cheese cut in small strips | 1/4 cup crumbled feta cheese |
| | 4 oz blue cheese crumbled |

Toss the ingredients together and add the salad dressing of your choice...perhaps ranch or thousand island. (I prefer just fresh lemons juiced over the salad and salt to taste.) Serves 4 people ENJOY!!

SALTSPRING SOLILOQUIES

“Learn to Care”

By Jim Anderson

To truly save our planet we must somehow create a radical change in our human consciousness beneath everything we do. We cannot rescue humankind from a death march to oblivion unless we reach a higher and more evolved consciousness in the collective human mind. Beneath the surface everywhere that metamorphosis is secretly beginning. But we all must find a focus to unite our life force around if we are to succeed. The heart center of that unison must be that as human beings we must learn to truly care. Beyond the circle of our own separate, isolated and self-centered lives we must learn to care for one another, and for this beleaguered planet with the same obsessive intensity.

It is the ancient Golden Rule, and we still have not learned how. We care for ourselves first, all of us. And all inhumanity, chaos, brutality, exploitation and ignorance ultimately stem from the fact that we still have not been able to expand our minds to resolve this primal duality. We still have not learned this lesson. In our world, today, it is still sadly...“Survival of the fittest.” “Bottom line.” “Look after Number One.” “Me first.” Profit, power, privilege and selfish gain still rule over making every life worth living on this planet.

Nothing has really changed. And now the situation has become critical. Our order and stability are disintegrating. Our society is collapsing. Our knowledge and technology are becoming irrelevant. All of us now are staring at the stark truth that we have wasted our planet to the point where life itself is in peril. The unavoidable truth is that our civilization today is careening towards extinction. And it is more than any one of us individually can deal with. The only chance we have is to face this oncoming catastrophe together. Every human being on this planet galvanized as one life force. Together. This we have never been able to do, in all history. It has simply never happened before. And it has now become a desperate problem. So, we need something new. A new way of being human on this planet. A metamorphosis of the human mind.

We must find a way to solve this eternal problem. Human beings must finally learn to care for something beyond their own discrete and selfish lives. We must find a pathway beyond that primitive ignorance. We must stop manipulating, exploiting and deceiving each other and stop contaminating our world with that destructive ignorance. We need to evolve a higher consciousness where the ensemble, not the isolated, separate piece is most important and priceless. We need to crystallize upon the glorious potential of human beings on this planet that are now wasted and consumed. We need to expand communication, compassion and humanism into a new dimension where life itself can be shared. We must find a way to live together in peace. All of us must now recognize that we simply do not care enough now. And that we either learn to truly care or we perish. We can make human life and all life sacred on this planet. We can reach a higher, global consciousness. Reach out for each other and learn to care. Together we can remake our world, and save this planet. Hand in hand we can save Humankind.

Join this Crusade. Now.

The Islands Marketplace HOROSCOPE

For your daily stars, personal horoscopes & more visit www.patrickarundell.com

Bi-weekly horoscope contributed by Patrick Arundell. Visit his website at www.patrickarundell.com for more great features... see below.

ARIES Mar 21st - Apr 20th

It's Venus turn to move homes, gliding, ironically for you, into your home sector. And making your abode that bit more comfy can certainly be a clarion call in the week's to come. If you already have a stylish pad, laid-out just as you wish, a spot of redecoration may be in order. Your garden can also become more of a sanctuary. Time with the family can be blessed.

TAURUS Apr 21st - May 21st

This week sees a major planetary alignment - combining both a Lunar Eclipse and a T-Square. A lot of people are going to be competing to get their voices heard, but because of this things can be said in the blink of an eye, that would be better not said at all. If you feel yourself getting excited in all this babble, just try to stay as composed as possible.

GEMINI May 22nd - Jun 21st

Sociability and friendship have come very easily to you of late. But just because people seem fun to be with, as you get to know any new friends better, you may also start to see less positive aspects of their nature. A lack of generosity or sharing can be one that comes up this week. Equally, you can find yourself fancying someone who's not available.

CANCER Jun 22nd - Jul 23rd

Your desire to do as you please can clash with a partner's desire for you to do that they want! Now, if you can meet each other in the middle, and be a bit more flexible, the chances are that you can achieve a really good, if not perfect balance. With your ambitions high, you may also want a loved one to remain resolutely supportive. Don't assume this.

LEO Jul 24th - Aug 23rd

You might not like people seeing your weaknesses Leo, but that doesn't necessarily mean that it is a bad thing to show them. Why? Because you may be coming across more aloofly and self contained than you really feel. How can people react to you in a warmer and more caring way, if you don't let them in? Perhaps it's time to lower your guard and trust.

VIRGO Aug 24th - Sep 23rd

Whatever hopes and dreams that you are pursuing, there may be some sacrifices that you need to make, to achieve them. And that may not be easy, because some of things that you may need to put to one side, may be those that you enjoy. For example, time for socializing may go by the by. But just how much do you want this success, that's the key?

LIBRA Sep 24th - Oct 23rd

You're much better at taking on responsibilities than people think. Sure, you can be a bit indecisive at times, but that's not such a bad thing because you realize that some issues need to be carefully weighed before finally making your mind up. And you can also be very fair. Now you can be much more in demand, but don't expect too much down time.

SCORPIO Oct 24th - Nov 22nd

Keep an overnight bag packed Scorpio, because you may be about to be whisked off on a business trip or replace a mutual friend who pulls out of a weekend away. You may also have to make some snap judgments regarding business deals. Anyone you find tricky to get along with, should be treated with caution. Sign contracts only after deliberation.

SAGITTARIUS Nov 23rd - Dec 21st

Try to be equitable in your dealings. If you put your interests above others - especially around finances, it could cause a rumpus. Pluto is stirring mischief and there is also a Lunar Eclipse. If however, you are straightforward, this can be a time of great improvements. In relationships, however much you love freedom, the best ties do require some commitment.

CAPRICORN Dec 22nd - Jan 20th

The emotional and home sector of your horoscope is very restless. This means that if you are feeling unhappy in any relationships, you can look to new people or a new person, to solve any crisis. This may work out for you, but some of the pattern you may be trying to escape from, could be coming from yourself. Look before you jump from frying pan to fire.

AQUARIUS Jan 21st - Feb 19th

There is fantastic, exciting element to your solar horoscope, but it also comes with some pitfalls. Most notable of these, is the temptation to overdo things. Resting may seem dull, but quite simply Aquarius, you are not a machine. If you treat your body like one, just occasionally it can become jammed. Take some time out. Rest. Create the space to breathe.

PISCES Feb 20th - Mar 20th

Just how much money are you going to throw at the dashing romantic possibility? While you spend, spend, spend; ask yourself, will it bring you any gratification? Then again, your love life may be settled, but you can find that your desires have rarely been higher - as far as retail therapy or rich foods. Without checking, you may soon pile on the pounds.

G.I.C.E.L. CELEBRATES 10 YEARS IN ECOLOGICAL LEARNING

Gulf Islands Centre for Ecological Learning – A Decade of providing experiences in nature for all.

It has been 10 years since the Gulf Islands Centre for Ecological Learning was conceived and during this year (2010) we will surpass the 1000th participant in our various programs. This to us is a great record and we would like to celebrate the occasion with all our partners, parents, grandparents and children who have been part of this great adventure. So, please mark down October 22, 2010 as the day to help us celebrate a decade of nature-based education.

Tentative plans are in the making and there will be both day activities and an evening event on Salt Spring Island. We will keep you apprised of developments and formal invitations will be sent out as the date draws near. Or, please consult our website at www.gicel.ca or email gicel@gicel.ca.

Whatever plans you do choose to make for your school aged children over the summer months, it is easy to agree that summer can be one of the best times of their lives.

Whether it is all about just hanging at the beach, or getting involved in a specific program that keeps their minds and skills keen, there is lots of fun pretty much wherever a kid goes.

Putting your child in a summer camp can seem to be expensive, but it is an extremely valuable investment in experiences and memories for them for years to come. Making new friends and sharing in new activities are highlights that most kids will excitedly share with you every day they come home with smiles ear to ear.

We are fortunate to have such great programs and facilitators on Salt Spring Island for our children:
