In This Issue

As I sit in my office and write this editorial, I realize that it is exactly one month until the holiday of holidays... Christmas! So exciting!

When you start shopping for that perfect gift for your loved ones, there is no better place to look than on our own islands. In this issue we offer you our Fourth Annual Arts & Craft Fairs Guide on page 7..

Island writer Tracey Supina shares some of her holiday memories and traditions in her column on page 11.

Aside from Christmas Joy, make sure to get out and vote in the Library Referendum on Dec. 5. Details on the Library Referendum are on page 13 of this issue.

Our feature story is all about Moby's Waterfront Pub and Cafe and the changes which are taking place there. Owner Robert Steinbach has now opened his restaurant to families and has also opened earlier in the day to offer a new whole new breakfast menu by Chef Georgiana Reehl.

Her name may sound familiar to you, as she has been a columnist here at the Marketplace for just over a year. I am very proud to know such a vivacious and talented woman. Her zest and passion for life are incredible as she puts her heart and soul into every task she undertakes. Georgiana rises to meet her challenges and strives to make her dreams come true to the best of her ability. She is a true go-getter in every sense of the word.

Not only a writer, but a business owner, an aquatics fitness instructor, a talented fine artist and an amazing chef, she is excited and eager to be taking on a new venture.

She will be creating menu items that will knock your socks off – and I should know, I've tried lots of her delicious cooking – don't miss out on this opportunity to come try for yourself. Where else can you enjoy the harbour sunrise with a delicious breakfast made with Georgiana's passion and care? Monday, Nov. 30 is Moby's Breakfast Grand Opening from 7 to 11am.

New Moon Actor will visit December 2

Saltspring Island girl, Jasmin Wilson is back in the VCH with a relapse of Compartment Syndrome and her family has had to bear the burden in time & money of being in Vancouver for an extended period once again. Thanks to another local, Mike Best, we're able to bring one of the young stars from our current film, New Moon, over to Salt Spring for an autograph signing to help raise funds for the Wilson family.

On Wednesday, December 2nd, actor Cameron Bright will be arriving on Salt Spring Island specifically to help raise money for Jasmin Wilson. Bright will be here for an autograph signing session at the GISS multipurpose room at 4:30 pm to be followed by a question & answer session at the Fritz Theatre at Central at 6:30 pm. The final Salt Spring screening of Twilight Saga – New Moon will follow, starting at 7:00 pm. Bright, who grew up on Vancouver Island, plays Alec, one of the Volturis in New Moon.

To help the Wilson family, cinema owner, Michael Levy and Best formulated a plan whereby local businesses will "match" the fundraising dollars brought in by the autograph signing. As of press time, Thrifty Foods, Saltspring Air, Windsor Plywood, Alders Plantation Vacation Rental, Salt Spring Coffee Company, SS Cinema and the Driftwood have either signed on to sponsor expenses or to participate in the matching program.

If you or your business would like to participate, please contact Michael Levy of SS Cinema at movies@theFritz.ca or bring your donation Wednesday night to the Q&A session.

Ottawa Hears Us

After months of persistent efforts to be heard and numerous protests over the the policies of the security screening for air traffic during the 2010 Olympic Games, Salt Spring Air just received the great news that they had been hoping for.

For twelve months they ran into dead ends, even when they took the case to Minister Gary Lunn, who agreed that their request was not only reasonable but necessary. The airline started to make plans to lay off personnel and park aircraft. Things looked pretty bleak, but...

Thanks to huge community support and a petition signed by over 2800 gulf islanders, accessibility to a politician that can see reason and a system that is flexible enough to make changes, they are thrilled to be able to have the required security system in place on-island. This means that they will be able to fly people to Vancouver direct and just as importantly fly visitors attending the Olympics back to the beautiful Gulf Islands. It will save money, fuel, time and potentially save lives, by not flying unnecessarily into a more treacherous flight path during the winter season.

This proves that together we can make a difference. Congratulations Salt Spring Air and Salt Spring Island for supporting each other.

WHY BUY UNICEF CHRISTMAS CARDS?

One pack of UNICEF cards will immunize 26 children against polio - this is the 60th anniversary of the first UNICEF greeting card.

UNICEF's priorities are: - to protect children from violence, exploitation and abuse - to give all children access to basic education and gender equality - to keep young children healthy and safe from disease - to improve water supplies and sanitation facilities in schools and communities - to provide advocacy for children's rights.

UNICEF works in conflict and disaster zones to trace separated and unaccompanied children and reunite them with their families.

UNICEF suppliers are ethically sourced to ensure adherence to standards on fundamental employee rights, and in particular the complete prohibition of child labour.

UNICEF products use only wood and paper from managed forests or recycled materials.

Keeping it Reehl

Advice, recipes and stories by Georgiana Reehl

Chef Georgiana Gets Cookin' at Moby's

I am so pleased to welcome everyone to try My "Reehl" breakfast at Moby's. The menu offers interesting and eclectic tastes. Owner Robert Steinbach has generously offered me the space and opportunity to continue my most beloved career as a Chef at his fabulous waterfront restaurant.

Beginning on Nov. 30 from 7 to 11, I will be creating breakfast menu items that Salt Spring will truly enjoy. It will include breakfast favourites that you just can't find anywhere else, like Poached Eggs and Kippers, English Breakfast, Belgium Waffles with fruit and topped with whipped cream, Our special - Eggs Benedict's, and for our construction crews, the Hungry Mans Platter.

On our opening day, Monday, Nov. 30, the coffee is on the house till 11am with your breakfast order, so come early to get a window seat to watch the glorious island sunrise. Wonderful things are happening at Moby's... Brunches, International nights, and now children are welcome. Whoopee!

I am looking forward to having the opportunity of cooking for you. It seems I have always loved cooking for people. My memories and my love for cooking began when I was young in Uganda and our family with nine kids would cook together under my mother's sharp eye. We would all work to get a full course meal ready for my Dad when he would come home from work.

My mother was a gifted cook and had a knack for turning anything into a delicious, affordable, and unforgettable delight. Food was precious to us, and we made do, even left over's had a purpose - nothing wasted. Our meals together would commence when my Dad would seat himself and read his news - paper or a book. My mother would serve him first, and then the rest of us, we were forbidden to drink water, We were told drinking water while eating fills you up, then you waste what's on your plate...."Money doesn't grow on trees" "Waste not want not pick it up and eat it" they would say.

My mother taught me so much about cooking, and she teaches me still. I always remember and treasure seeing my Dad's happy smile and contented face after a hearty meal and my Mothers chuffed look knowing I did good - and since that time I have always wanted to cook and see those sated faces of contentment.

Try to stay warm and dry during these stormy November days, and look forward to seeing you at Moby's family restaurant.

Mobys and morning sunrises make for a great new family breakfast combination.

Moby's Now Welcomes Families

Moby's is happy to announce that families are now welcome in part of the waterfront restaurant.

"We have adjusted our liquor license to permit family use of part of our premises" owner Robert Steinbach said. "We are opening up the lower level and patio area for family usage while at the same time maintaining the bar area exclusively for our adult guests. There is a natural separation in the design of the building that enables us to accomplish this. It has been one of our long-term objectives to permit families in part of Moby's. After several months we have finally received approval from the Liquor Control and Licensing Branch for this significant change."

Our regular program of live music will continue as usual, offering Blues every Thursday 8-11 and Jazz every Sunday 7-10 as well as other music on most Fridays or Saturdays.

We are pleased to offer longer kitchen hours now with Chef Georgiana Reehl taking over the morning breakfast serving from 7am to 11am. She is offering new menu items, in addition to some favourites, such as eggs benny. The kitchen will continue to serve our regular daily foodfare until 11pm, as usual.

Other great new menu items we are introducing to accompany this change in our licence, includes Monday Night Ethnic Food Themes with Italian, Mexican, Eastern, Indian and French specialty menus, to name a few. Also we offer a variety of baked oysters, grilled cheese sandwiches, chicken strips and macaroni & cheese, in addition to our regular daily specials.

For more information, please call Robert Steinbach at 537-5559 or email new.moby's@gmail.com.

Bi-weekly horoscope contributed by Patrick Arundell. Visit his website at www.patrickarundell.com for more great features... see below.

ARIES Mar 21st - Apr 20th

The freedom lover in you needs an outlet. This may see you heading off for a day's Christmas shopping or planning something more adventurous. If you can escape with a partner - perhaps to see a show and take in the lights - it can really pep up the romance between you. Nearer to home, don't turn down any invitation - you can be on top form.

TAURUS Apr 21st - May 21st

You could find yourself provoking an argument with a partner, just to spark a reaction. There is something about this week which sees you want some kind of challenge or test. Through this you can grow. Yet ambitious plans for Yule may need to be trimmed back. It can be disappointing if other people don't share the same enthusiasm as you Taurus.

GEMINI May 22nd - Jun 21st

Something truly special can happen in love. If you're already hitched, and if you are unhappy with any aspect of the tie, use the Full Moon and Venus's passage into Sagittarius to try to find solutions, rather than highlight weaknesses. A gentle approach may at last see a change. Exercise can be good for you, as an excess of nervous energy is possible.

CANCER Jun 22nd - Jul 23rd

A tricky issue may require a combination of pragmatism and sensitivity. Your good fortune is that you rarely expect perfection, so the parameters for achieving a good outcome are closer to you, than they might be to some folk. If you do find yourself stressed out, you can find yourself taking solace in chocolate or other goodies. Ooh the sinfulness Cancer!

LEO Jul 24th - Aug 23rd

With Mars in your sign, head-to-head with the knows-no-limits-Jupiter, your enthusiasm can reach a new bubbly high. This can give you a fantastic appetite for the fun and festive mirth which is beginning to ratchet up. The new month can also be a richly romantic time, but there may be some bumps and dumps along the way. Be bold and go for it Leo!

VIRGO Aug 24th - Sep 23rd

You can find yourself decorating or laying new carpets - especially if you have guests due to stay over the winter break. This can also be a good time to put things on a better footing around a family squabble. You can very discriminating, which is a real quality, but the downside is that it can make you seem a nit picker. Let go of petty differences now.

LIBRA Sep 24th - Oct 23rd

As the page turns over to the final month of the year, an excitable Jupiter/Mars link can sweep you away. However, the Full Moon and the move of the gorgeous Venus, asks you to balance your hopes and expectations for the festive period with a solid understanding of what foundations your existence are built upon. In understanding this, you will be set fair.

SCORPIO Oct 24th - Nov 22nd

Scorpio folk can have a strident, sometime more forceful side to their natures. Is this true of you? If so, but conscious of which situations you apply this to. There are some battles best avoided, others which must be taken on. Getting this right will save you time and emotional stress. Yet pleasingly, your finances can take a step up, just in the knick of time.

SAGITTARIUS Nov 23rd - Dec 21st

The Full Moon may bring a relationship matter to a head, but whatever the outcome and however you feel immediately afterwards, given a few days reflection, you will be able to find your emotional bearings once more. Perhaps a new start will be required, but this may not necessitate a change of "personnel" as much as a change of attitude Archer.

CAPRICORN Dec 22nd - Jan 20th

Confidentiality is important. Even if someone badgers you to tell them something, keep it firmly under your hat. Also be conscious that we all have sensitivities and you're no different. Use some avoidance strategies where possible. If this means letting someone gently down on a party or meeting you don't fancy. Next week, you'll start to regain your poise.

AQUARIUS Jan 21st - Feb 19th

Your ability to see lots of different people's viewpoints and to accept that they are different to yours can stand you in good stead. This comes from the fact that you're the zodiacs natural democrat. That said good time management is essential, especially with the myriad demands life will throw at you now. Yet your energy can be relatively high Aquarius.

PISCES Feb 20th - Mar 20th

With perseverance, your wider objectives can come towards you. But you may need to accept that there can be some inconvenience in this. If you find yourself ruing a bygone era when people had values more in keeping with what you'd prefer, all you can do is ensure that you practice what you preach. You can also be active in helping those less fortunate.

Christmas, Christmas, Christmas!!!

There is magic in the air at Christmas time. A special kind of feeling that comes from the heart and radiates to all who celebrate the season. We hear it in the sweet Christmas Carols that warm the frosty winter nights. We smell it when we go to friends and family homes filled with the warm smell of holiday baking. We see it when our houses and neighborhoods are all lit up with twinkling colorful lights and our homes are adorned with the handmade treasures we've created. Or better yet the wreath my Mom made for me. We feel it when our kids throw their arms around us and giggle for no other reason than the contagious excitement of the season.

Like so many other very busy busy people, I every single year swear that I am going to start with the Christmas gift making, the baking, the canning early. True to form I haven't even put thought into who gets what. We have never been big on the gifts purchased more the homemade gift giving. One year seems like a life time ago I was what I refer to as the POOR era. My two oldest boys were very young and I made them superman capes out of an old red bedspread. I didn't have a sewing machine so I hand stitched their capes, (not the seamstress I thought I was) but that was the gift, to this day they remember the most. It turned out that they wore their capes all day with their pajamas and everyday for as long as I could remember. We are traditional in a sense that we have family over on Christmas eve and wake up Christmas morning and open gifts. The boys love opening gifts from each other there is 4 of them so it does get comical as to who gives to who and what it means. I always get bubble bath, and slippers, as my Mom gets the same from me every year.

Every year since I was little my mom started her baking the beginning of December and I will put it on paper that my MOM makes the best Butter tarts in the whole wide world. She gives everyone the same thing, a banana loaf, butter tarts, shortbread cookies, after I did the yuck to mincemeat tarts I am excluded from them hehehehe. We all love it. I buy a new ornament for the tree every year something special and I always know why I picked it, and what it means to us. I am sure we all have hand crafted ornaments our kids have made, those are my most prized possessions. I have an Angel for the top of my tree I got more than 20 years ago when my oldest was a baby. I love listening to what everyone is doing for the holiday season, who has the turkey dinner and when, who opens gifts on what day.

My boyfriends Mom and Dad have a Danish smorgasbord on boxing day, the first year I was invited to this I was completely blown away, what an incredible event that took place in front of me. The different dishes, the courses that keep coming from the kitchen, my mouth is watering in anticipation just thinking about Boxing day this year. The best part is the amount of family and friends that attend, from youngest to oldest, aunts and uncles and cousins. I was in awe over this, I loved every minute of it, and you can't forget the Aquavit...SKOL.

This year is like the same as every other I will procrastinate on how much time I actually have before Christmas, and how much I actually have made or bought and I am sure this year I will swear again to start earlier to avoid the stress of last minute gifting.

Cheers

SALTSPRING SOLILOQUIES

The Lost Center

Jim Anderson is a writer living on Saltspring. He is working on a metamorphosis of the human mind. © 2009 by Jim Anderson, Saltspring Island

By Jim Anderson

It has been a long, long time coming. And it is still not here yet. Seen in the proper light everything around us today is evidence of a lesson that we have not yet learned. A door not yet opened. The simple truth is that we are up against a calamity and crisis of such magnitude and scope that the only way through is by all of us somehow fusing all of our strength and will together. Human beings of Earth singing the same song, living the same harmony, dreaming the same unity. You and I both know how far human society now is from that utopia. But maybe we just have to begin to know where to look. Maybe we have to start at the center.

There is a center that universe secretly manifests everywhere beyond our understanding. That ignorance has now become critical and lethal. As a species we have come so far and reached so high not because of the awesome power, wealth and dynasties created on Earth, or any personal accumulation. Instead, we have evolved and prospered because of what we have managed to do together. The community we have forged, the communal force we have become and the common wealth we have created here on Earth. We all just have to begin to see that what we do together is sacred. In finally understanding this, I believe that we will find higher ground, and the center we have not yet discovered. Somehow the lesson we have yet to learn begins here.

All around us there is evidence that something vital at the center itself is lacking. And that lack is becoming a toxic contamination and lethal problem. There is a center to our lives and existence that is missing. Time is running out. We must find it soon.

Take a close look at the world of health and medicine. In our personal lives, we live in an age of depression, despair and lost bewilderment. We feel unbalanced, fragile and alienated. Somehow the essential and central meaning of our lives itself has become obscure.

And in the scientific world, at the heart of all life we have identified the force of what is called "faithful replication." This process of cells reproducing with faithful replication means that life reproduces itself manifesting and identifying with a continuity and an eternal center that maintains itself throughout all time. In other words, life naturally and normally forms around a center. "Faithful" to the nucleus from which life and identity have always been radiated. It is this faithful replication that is the essence of how and why life itself continues. From this center the vital force of life evolves.

But, in our world today we are besieged and tortured by the epidemic that we call "Cancer." At its essence, cancer is a condition where the cells involved somehow rapidly multiply without any discernible nucleus or center. Uncontrolled growth. In one sense, then, we live today in a world epidemic of Cancer, where the eternal center of life itself has somehow become lost.

And consider the manifestation of immune disease and immune system problems. Somehow the human immune system of recognizing body, self and being and differentiating that from alien "other" has become confused and misled. In other words the system of protection and defense that has for eons preserved the integrity of our lives in a hostile and pathogenic world has become unable to identify and preserve us...our central essence...from alien existence. Once again there is evidence here that it is the center that has somehow become disoriented and misplaced.

Finding that new center to all existence, and finding it hand in hand together will lead us to higher ground. Perhaps it is a journey that is not so impossible...and not so far off. The problem is at the center. And it is missing everywhere. We all live in an age poised before an open door. There is a lesson to learn. An answer to be found together. Somewhere out there...buried in common ground.

A New Library - It's Up to You!

By Stan Shapiro for the SSI Library Board

On December 5th, 2009 there will be a library referendum regarding the construction of a new building on the current site. But why should you vote "yes"? First and foremost, if you do and the referendum passes, then almost two-thirds of the costs of the project will be covered by a $4.55 million Federal-Provincial grant. Yes, the remainder of what is needed for construction and additional operating costs must come from SSI ratepayers. But if the vote carries, the additional taxes paid to provide library services, per every $100,000 of residential tax assessment on SSI homes, will increase by just under $14.00 a year. If the referendum doesn't carry, that $4.55 million grant goes "off Island". We either "choose it or lose it" and we choose it by voting "yes" and agreeing to put up our matching third of the cost.

The new 12,000 square foot building, more than twice the size of our old and decaying one, would be built to LEED Gold environmental standards. The library would be able to move out of its current building into its new home in the Fall of 2011. That new home, in addition to providing public meeting space, would have wider aisles and easier to access book shelves, greatly expanded facilities for both children and teens, adequate working space for volunteers and staff, a proper home for the archives, and an "open air" public courtyard. For all these reasons we hope you and your friends, (whether they be property owners or resident renters who are also eligible to vote) will vote "yes" on Saturday, December 5. Or, if it better fits your schedule, vote at the advance poll, on Wednesday, December 2, at the Fire Hall. Polls are open 8:00 AM to 8:00 PM.

Design plans for the New Salt Spring Island Public Library.
